

Who will be involved in the planning of the services not dedicated to long term care? Various departments at the county level will be involved in the planning process for the housing as well as the daycare services. We reminded families and staff that those services will not be supported by Hillview employees.

How will you ensure safety of all those being served? We have heard the concern about safety and the separations of such services. This will be first and foremost in our minds as we advance in our design process. All plans are required to be approved by Wisconsin DHS. As our planning evolves and monitors are determined, we will share what those are. We do not have those answers today.

What is the time frame of the project? Our priority is the Community Based Residential Facility. The east end of our building will be a complete turnover and brand-new spaces for this assisted living. The approximate timeline once bids are approved and work begins is 18 months. This first phase should have very little to no effect on our current residents living area.

Will all residents have a place to live who currently live here? Yes! If appropriate, it is a choice if a resident moves into the new Assisted Living. All residents will have a transitional plan in place. Each person is assessed and reviewed weekly as need levels change. What they are assessed for and appropriate for today, may be different when the project is completed. Resident and family will be very involved to ensure a smooth transition.
